

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

The PROJECTS I found most valuable were the unit one PROJECTS. They seem the most relevant to me as a student right now. After college & in college I will be applying for jobs so having to write cover letters & memos & applications really helps.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

I gained a lot of new information that will help me down the road. This class is a lot more useful than other writing classes I have taken in the past.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

- memos, working with group members on projects & writing so structurally helped me learn how to navigate workplace docs.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The group work because it is hard to write with others. It also helped me because it challenged me to do better

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

I really enjoyed the course. It was definitely useful for the future and the instructor was very helpful and made the course enjoyable.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

I think the 3rd project was too abstract and hard to follow
The first and 2nd were the most feasible and realistic

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

It didn't I'm still not a fan of writing

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

How to properly compose a memo

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

Project 3 challenged me the most because it was the most abstract and I feel like it was way too far fetched

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

I liked the first unit and the last unit.
Unit 2 was not as useful.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

It helped me become a much more professional writer for a professional setting.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

The entire first unit.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

I did not like unit 2

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

I found the first project very valuable because it help me get familiar with client and memo analysis.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

Definitely gave me a more mature writing style as I can support my evidence with more of an analysis.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

Client analysis and the memos.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

Very friendly and good -

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

I thought the projects in unit A were helpful because they applied to all of our lives. Unit 2/3 didn't feel like I would ever use that info

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

It honestly didn't change

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

I learned about memos. I had never learned about them before

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

I thought Unit 3 was most challenging because it took up the most amount of time.

too much time on the second unit.

There's more to writing than just for school. Professional writing exists.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

The classifications of different writing b/w the units helped.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

I was challenged in all 3 units. I learned how to read from other points of view. I understand how my writing is understood by others and how it could be <sup>OVER</sup> classified as something else.

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

Noah was a very fair instructor. I wish more people in the writing dept were as open and fair as he was. His teaching was very effective and he wasn't afraid to share if someone's opinion was wrong.

I wish you spent a little more time describing the necessary components for unit 2 as unit 2 was the most confusing/intricate to me.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

All projects have been useful in order to achieve the goal of the class. However, to improve I would suggest trying to get more class participation when it comes to discussing the readings. Also, I would suggest giving more time to the third project and less to the first or second.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

My view of writing has changed as I now see the effectiveness of writing in a professional environment.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

Understanding who will be reading your writing, along with understanding how your writing makes you seem as an individual have been the most useful for me.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The third project as it is always a challenge to work in groups to complete a unified task, especially so close to the end of the semester.

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

The instructor is professional, intelligent, and always ready to offer his help to students. I would easily sign up to take another course he is teaching.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

The second assignment felt drawn out and was sometimes frustrating. Either more guidance or feedback would help

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

I'm more focused on writing persuasively as opposed to writing purely conventionally.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

It helped me distinguish my casual writing style with my professional style and be persuasive in both.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The second assignment was the most challenging just because I felt in the dark for a lot of the assignments

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

Because a lot of what the textbook says is pretty obvious, instead of talking about what stood out, maybe have a pre-determined plan for what to talk about.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

Our first unit project which required us to create application letters, make an introductory bio, and update our resume's was very valuable because it helps with our professional careers, I can use what I learned in this class for the future. I wouldn't change anything.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

This class helped me from more of a professional standpoint. Effective writing can be used in whatever career I choose.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

→ Mainly adapting to your audience. It's important to tailor your language depending on who you're writing to. This class made that notion clear.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

→ The assignment to take a problem within the university and figure out solutions for it was most challenging because it required the most time & effort. My group had to reach out to different professors to find out background info, then deliver a concrete solution to the client. <sup>OVER</sup>

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

Very nice guy. Is not the Best fresaker.

Tends to be very detail oriented which causes him to ramble ~~much~~ in pursuit of finding the best language or expression
I would suggest he speak more freely and think less about how precise his language is.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

The first assignment about the business documents (resume, cover letter etc)

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

I was able to more efficiently write and analyze documents. It was very real world oriented.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

Again the 1st project opened my eyes to the workplace.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The final project about the feasibility test was the most difficult to conduct. We had to do a lot of real world research.

Best WRT class I've taken at SU!

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

Because of my current field of ~~work~~ system analysis
I think the project in feasibility was best

Too many memos with confusing names

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

I focus more on my audience and writing efficiently
& appropriately

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents? ~~the~~ the projects

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

This was pretty great. I've heard many horror stories about friends' experience in UT207 and was pleasantly surprised to find none of that here. Laid backs + personal, big fun.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

I enjoyed the first assignment, the onboarding project bc it was really self-reflecting. I also liked the feasibility project - it was really interesting & challenging.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

Less formal, more creative & applicable to real life experiences.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

The onboarding project & corresponding memos.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The feasibility projects since we had to essentially solve problems the University was facing w/ real primary research.

he was great! could have created a more challenging & fluid coursework throughout semester.

CS

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

The Onboarding Portfolio was nice because I got a lot of useful feedback on my writing for employment applications.

~~The~~ The Instructions Portfolio was good for making me realize I can always make things clearer.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

I feel more confident writing for job seeking + more aware of how I write at work.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

The assignments in unit 4 + lectures.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The feasibility study because I had to work w/ a group and because I could have really cared less about the subject of my project.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

- memos were surprisingly very useful.
- Templates on the textbook were very clear.
- Communication through blackboard & ~~the~~ email were successful.
- In class assignments like the bad instructions one provided a good clarification.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

- I view writing as more professional & reader-centered.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

The first portfolio in which we did resumes and cover letters were super helpful. I even used the cover letter we did in this class to get an internship next semester.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

Not much but I enjoyed the class immensely.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

First portfolio and learning how to professionally communicate in a workplace (memos)

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

Last portfolio challenged me to work in a team better which helped.

Very nice, understanding, funny, would like to have Mr. Noah
Wilson in the future.
Phenomenal Professor.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

- 2nd project - real life writing
website/wordpress blog

- The 1st project is hard to complete if you don't value classtime - maybe emphasize this more in the rubric

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

More technical, more hands on, more rhetorical and persuasive while maintaining general principles

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

The memos! Great workplace / real life situations

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

Great Guy!

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

The first unit was most helpful nice to know what a professional memo looks like

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

I'm more conscious of how I use language

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

How to address memos based on audience

Engineering & Computer Science

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

Feasibility Project. & Instruction Project.

Providing access to SU's data just for this course could be very helpful.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

I feel like I can view issues more thoroughly, and I have learned how to write more audience-focused papers.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

The textbook does a really good job.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The Instruction Project did. I got to learn how to test if my writings are objective or misleading.

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

It would be better if the instructor can manage to put assignments evenly by labor/difficulty throughout the semester. (Maybe talk a bit slower. 😊)

The course is good in terms of clarifying certain writing styles but I doubt if it is necessary for an electrical engineer like me.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

I found the first project to be the most valuable because it pertained to improving on materials we need for jobs and internships. I think the last project could be improved upon because I feel as if we didn't get as much guidance in completing it as we did for the first 2 projects.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

This course offered me a way to enhance my writing skills in the most practical and useful way. Every assignment was a mock of something I'll be doing for a future job and I found it really useful.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

Working in teams and writing really realistic documents helped me think rhetorically and navigate workplace situations.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The last one challenged me the most because it was a combo of doing research, finding a topic, and writing about it.

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

The instructor give really good feedback that I find very useful.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

I found all of them helpful. They apply to the business world which is very important to me. I would say the feasibility report could be improved by having a more set guideline.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

It showed me how to write professionally for a job rather than an essay. It was way more applicable.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

It gave me a baseline from where I could work from. It would guide me in how to approach the writing.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

Unit 2. The website was challenging for me b/c it was out of my realm of knowledge.

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

He was very respectful and relatable to me. He gave me positive feedback and was accommodating to us which was fantastic.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

I found project 2 and three to be valuable.
Project 2 could be improved on, by changing the type of project.
I didn't find that building instructions was a good project.
if not, have us improve the instructions of a pre-selected set of instructions.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

writing 307 definitely changed my view of writing as a whole.
I was expecting writing like manuals and very technical documents.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

Audience analysis was very helpful.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

Honestly there were no challenging assignments

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

Definitely keep teaching style. Allowing students to have input on grading rubrics was clutch, and puts a perspective from the grading aspects.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

The feasibility project and the instructions project

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

It gave a more real perspective for what writing is like in the real world

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

Applying what we were doing to real life situations so that it was more real and applicable

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The instructions project because it required so much work, thought and effort to create good instructions

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

N/A

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

Research unit (unit 3) was helpful in being able to identify a problem and address it.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

Much more useful to have professional writing practice prior to entering workplaces

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

- Being clear + concise with memos and letters
- Making style/format consistent

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

Unit 3 because conducting research was difficult.

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

I really thought the first and second projects were most valuable & useful in real life. The third project was just very rushed and made it hard to really understand why we are doing what we are.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

Showed me how applicable it is to real life, and to the workplace.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

Makes you think about the consequences of your writing and the purpose of each document you send.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The last project, solely because we were crunched for time. Also a 20 minute presentation is A LOT.

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

Very cool, stay cool my guy.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

I found the first unit very helpful, because it showed me how to write professionally, whether it was a feedback memo or an application letter.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

I found writing to be much more structured after this class. I wasn't aware of every aspect that could go into a piece.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

The first few chapters, which were focused on application letters/feedback memos/etc.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The feasibility project is the most challenging because it involved much more research & work than any other one.

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

Noah was very helpful, & he was always available if I needed help.

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

Projects 1 and 2 were extremely interesting and valuable because much of the research was applicable and practical for future use. Project 3 was somewhat mediocre since a lot of the feedback from our clients was minimal and would have been nice to have a larger response.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

Writing is not strictly writing essays or documents, much more research is applied to assist students outside of this class (resume, cover letters, memos, etc.)

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

Memos, powerpoints, and writing applicable documents.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

At first, instructions for assignments were vague and unclear, but once we got used to the format of the class and expectations, the class was a lot more enjoyable and manageable.

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

Great class! Thanks for the best writing class
at SU!

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

The weekly reading and memo assignments were the most relevant to me and the skills I need to develop for the professional world.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

It gave me a preview of how to write in business & what types of standards are necessary.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

The memos because it is an essential component of communication in the work place.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The instruction assignment challenged me the most because of the high level of analysis.

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

I found the instructions project valuable along with the memos. It helped improve my professional writing.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

My view of writing is definitely more reader-centered and professional now.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

The proper types of documents I should send, such as ~~ask~~ e-mails and memos in an office workplace.

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

The unit 3, because we had to work collaboratively.

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

Creating memos. We practiced our formal writing, which I have been able to apply to real life. Feasibility ~~proj~~ project was least valuable. Topics can be hard to research at our level just as students.

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

I now look at writing as more professional. Before ~~this~~ this class I would write politely and what I considered professional. After taking this class I saw it is more difficult and complex than what I thought.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

I learned more about other people's perspectives

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

Feasibility report. It was difficult to conduct research.

6. Are there other things you would like to say about the instructor or the course?

1. Which projects or assignments did you find valuable? Which could be improved upon?

The 1st project with writing cover letters and recommendation letters was extremely useful.
The feasibility report project was least valuable to me

2. Describe how your view of writing changed as a result of WRT 307.

My view of providing useful and meaningful feedback has changed as well as writing for a specific audience.

3. What elements of WRT 307 helped you think rhetorically about navigating workplace situations and documents?

Writing for the purpose of a genre or audience

4. What assignment or assignments challenged you the most, and in what ways were you challenged?

I was challenged with making my writing concise and meaningful
